Mission and Vision of National P.G. College

Vision

The motto of the college is meritumethicus i.e. merit with ethics. Social, regional, territorial, geographical, racial and cultural boundaries no longer hold relevance in the present scenario. Merit in human beings without ethics turn him into a wild beast. Merit and ethics are the two pillars upon which the foundation of the academic programmes of the College rests. The academic programmes of the college have been designed to ensure dynamic, interactive, innovative methodologies of learning to enhance the academic accomplishments of the students. The college is committed to instill in the students a deep sense of ethics, which having amalgamated with their inner talents transforming them into ideal, dedicated, sincere and responsible citizens of the world.

Mission

The mission of the college is focused on the overall development of the individuals who can serve their organizations, their society and humanity at large with dedication. The college is, through its academic programmes, determined to provide an environment where the students can flexibly develop their personality and bring out the perfection bestowed upon them by nature. The college ensures that each student acquires in-depth knowledge in his chosen discipline and is transformed into a useful citizen of the world.

Golden Jubilee Celebration of National P.G. College

National P.G. College marked a significant milestone on 24th July 2024 as it celebrated the completion of 50 years since its establishment. The occasion was filled with joy, pride, and nostalgia, as the college looked back on its long and illustrious history.

The Golden Jubilee Celebration was graced by several distinguished guests. The Chief Guest for the event was Rajiv Kumar, Justice of the High Court, Allahabad. Prof. S. P. Singh, the former Principal of the institution and former Vice Chancellor of both Lucknow University and Darbhanga University, graced the occasion as the, Special Guest.

The event commenced with the inaugural ceremony, which featured the traditional lighting of the lamp by the Chief Guest, Justice Rajiv Kumar, Prof. S. P. Singh, and the College Principal, Prof. Devendra Kumar Singh. This symbolic gesture marked the beginning of the celebrations and invoked a sense of tradition and continuity.

Prominent personalities such as Sudhir Halwasiya, State Vice President of the Bharatiya Janata Party, were also present to honor the occasion. Prof. Devendra Kumar Singh, who presided over the program, expressed the collective excitement of the college community. He emphasized that this celebration was not only a reflection on the successes of the past 50 years but also an opportunity to outline future plans for the institution's growth. Prof. Singh warmly welcomed the dignitaries and presented a narrative of the college's journey over the last five decades, highlighting its milestones and achievements.

The Chief Guest, Justice Rajiv Kumar, in his address, provided insightful words to the students. He emphasized that education is not just about obtaining a degree but about its practical application in life. He spoke about the importance of decency, decorum, and learning how to navigate social interactions. Justice Kumar stressed that real success lies not only in academic qualifications but also in one's ability to survive and behave in society.

The ceremony served as an opportunity to reflect on the college's glorious history and acknowledge the contributions of those who played a role in its success. The Golden Jubilee was a momentous occasion for National P.G. College, celebrating its legacy and setting the stage for future accomplishments

Completion of 15-Day Paid Internship Training Programme by P.G. Diploma Remote Sensing GIS Students under the Programme 'Earn While You Learn'

The Department of Geography proudly announces the successful completion of a 15-day paid internship training programme by the students of the P.G. Diploma in Remote Sensing and GIS. This programme, conducted under the initiative "Earn While You Learn," involved the digitization of 78 villages in Uttar Pradesh.

The project was carried out under the expert guidance of engineers from Aeronics Consultancy, along with mentorship from coordinator Prof. P.K. Singh and Dr. Ritu Jain, who provided invaluable supervision throughout the programme. The students, who were compensated for each map digitized, worked diligently to meet the project's objectives with dedication and professionalism.This internship not only allowed the students to contribute significantly to the project but also offered them well-deserved financial rewards. The hands-on experience gained during this programme has been immensely beneficial, equipping the students with practical skills and real-world exposure in their field of study. Such opportunities play a vital role in the holistic development of our students, preparing them for future professional endeavors.

Changemakers: Education to Underprivileged

Every year, the Department of Geography at National P.G. College organizes the Changemaker campaign, a noble initiative aimed at fostering positive societal impact. In the 2023-24 session, our group, comprising Tanishka Lekhwar, Anushka Verma, Deeksha Verma, Nitya Shukla, Pooja Khatri, and Pragati Agrawal, proudly took part in this campaign.

The focus of the campaign was on providing education to underprivileged children living in slum areas, driven by the belief that "Everyone has the right to education." In addition to this, we also organized a cultural event for Ganesh Chaturthi 6 September, 2024, using minimal, locally available resources. The decorations for the event were simple yet heartfelt, with flowers, means. The charm to the dancing, and the winners of As Mahatma embraced this initiatives and the stage for Lord Ganesh being adorned with dupattas and paper showcasing that true happiness can be created with limited active participation of the children and their families further added event. We organized a variety of activities, including singing, poetry recitations. To motivate the children, rewards were given to these events, creating a joyful and encouraging atmosphere.

Gandhi once said, "Be the change you want to see in the world," we principle and hope that our efforts inspire others to take similar contribute towards building a better world for all.

"A Majestic Tree Is Hidden Inside Every Seed, Waiting For The Right Environment To Thrive,"
Inspired by the principle, TAPSAYA National 90 Centre has been established under the esteemed guidance of our Principal Sir and the dedicated management of National PG College, Lucknow. Our initiative aims to provide free preparation for competitive exams such as UPSC, UPPSC, RO, NDA, CDS, PGT, and TGT, showcasing our commitment to the holistic development of our Undergraduate and Postgraduate students.The TAPSAYA National 90 Centre is committed to nurturing student potential by offering comprehensive guidance, especially when students are overwhelmed by the plethora of resources, YouTube channels, and AI study materials available in the market. This centre assists students in effectively choosing the right path to follow. We aim to reduce the stress and financial burden of expensive coaching for both students and parents while empowering our students to achieve their dreams within the college environment.
The Department of Geography has a long-standing tradition of excellence, offering various programs such as the S-20 classes for UGC NET, Civil Services, and other competitive exams since 2003. The Department of Geography is dedicated to offering opportunities through the "Earn While We Learn" scheme, which includes a paid internship program, further enhancing our students' academic and professional growth.However, this is the first time we have established a dedicated centre under the guidance of the respected Principal Sir. Seeing our students complete the one-month guidance program through the TAPSAYA National 90 Centre is encouraging.
